Colonial Voluntary Benefits℠
The benefits of good hard work.®

The bidding process just became easier

In the past, contracting for voluntary benefits may have meant conducting a formal RFP. This could take weeks, or even months, exhausting an enormous amount of your administrative resources. Not anymore.

By leveraging our Sourcewell contract (formally NJPA), you can contract for voluntary benefits without the hassle. We can help you with:

- Health plan design changes
- Wellness programs and assistance with Section 125 plans
- Benefits communication and education services
- Dependent eligibility verification
- Preventive treatment programs

The bidding process has been done, the contract's been awarded

Sourcewell awarded us a contract as part of a competitive RFP process. We earned the contract not only because of the quality, convenience and affordability of our products and services, but also because of our experience working with public sector employees like yours.

WHY COOPERATIVE PURCHASING?

This solution may help you:

- Avoid duplicating your own competitive bidding process
- Eliminate low-bid or low-quality responses
- Create administrative efficiencies

Talk to your benefits representative today to learn more about how we can help.

It is incumbent upon the entity that desires contracting to ensure that the Sourcewell contract satisfies your statutory requirements or obligations. In order to leverage this contract, the public sector entity must be a Sourcewell member. Membership is free to government, education, and nonprofit agencies.
